

Chaperone Name: _____

Chaperone Title: _____

Have You Chaperoned This Conference Before? (please circle):

Yes                      No

Gender Identity (please circle):

Female                  Male                  Non-Binary / Third Gender                  Self-Describe in Another Way

Affinity Identification (please circle):

African                  African American                  Asian American                  Caribbean American                  International
LatinX                  LGBTQ+                  Middle Eastern                  Multi-Racial                  Native American
South Asian                  Trans-Racial Adoptee                  White European American

Do You Plan to Attend the Chaperone Workshop? (please circle):

Yes                      No

Optional Workshop for Chaperone Attendees (offered during the first Sunday morning workshop time: 10:00 - 11:00 a.m.)

In My Feelings: Breaking Down Conversations About Race

Facilitated by Jamie-Jin Lewis, closing keynote speaker

Conversations about race can often feel one-sided, incomplete and overwhelming. Through this highly interactive session, explore a framework for racial equity, draw on your own knowledge to identify tools and strategies for addressing racism in your everyday life, and use real world examples to practice using your voice to advocate for yourself and others in the moment.

NOTE: This same workshop will be offered to students during the 11:10 a.m. – 12:10 p.m. workshop time.

Food Allergies (please circle):

Gluten                  Dairy                  Nuts                  Seafood                  Other                  None

Other: _____

Special Needs / Notes:

_____